

Green Reads Discussion

Fall 2017 Reading Schedule at Kathleen Clay Edwards Family Branch

September 29 (Friday) at Noon. Best American Science and Nature Writing. Join us in discussing the highlights of the annual collection. These award-winning essays can be checked out at Kathleen Clay Edwards, by request.

October 25 (Wednesday) from 7-8:30 pm. Rachel Carson's Silent Spring (movie).

A phenomenal documentary about her life and impact, as a marine biologist, conservationist, and influence on the global environmental movement.

November 17th (Friday) at Noon. Flight Behavior by Barbara Kingsolver. A striking novel set on an Appalachian farm in present day, tackling the unexplained in nature and the interactions among religious leaders, climate scientists, environmentalists, and politicians.

December 20th (Wednesday) from 7 - 8 pm. Fair Trade Films and discussion.

An introduction and commentary on the Fair Trade standards and partnerships. With the informative videos and Ted Talks and a lively discussion regarding the place and importance of fair pricing, especially in regards to developing countries.

This program is sponsored by

www.greensborolibrary.org

